

Coppice's Reading Roundup

Nov '23 - Issue 2

Welcome to the second issue of Coppice's Reading Roundup! This month features recommendations for historical fiction fans, non-fiction fans, some recommendations from our lovely pupils and meeting Coppice's first ever reading ambassadors! Families, does your child always stick to the same book series? Do they say they can't find anything they would like to read? Or are they book machines who are rapidly running out of recommendations? I have the perfect website for you at the end of the newsletter. Many of the books on the website are available at school to borrow! Miss Fegan

Orla in Year 2 recommends...The Giraffe, the Pelly and Me – a lesser-known Roald Dahl. Orla loves it because it is funny and adventurous! She likes the story of the giraffe with a magical neck and thinks everyone would enjoy reading it!

Freddie in Year 4 recommends...Beast of Harwood Forest by Dan Smith: Walking through the woods on a residential, three friends make a discovery beyond their wildest imaginations. Freddie says it links to learning he has done in class with a spooky twist! Suitable for 9+ dyslexia-friendly publishers (Barrington Stoke)

Meet our new Reading Ambassadors!

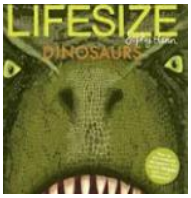

Thank you to all that applied to become a reading ambassador – there were so many responses and it is wonderful that you all love reading so much! Here are the new team of Reading Ambassadors holding some of their favourite books. Their first job was to collect some book recommendations from around school.

Miss Labbett and Year 1 recommend... Lifesize by Sophy Henn.

This interactive non-fiction adventure features LIFESIZE illustrations! You can compare how you measure up to a Pteranodon's beak, a Diplodocus' nostril, a Utahraptor's claw and much more! Sophy Henn has a whole series of Lifesize books including baby animals, creepy crawlies and deadly animals!

Did You Know? Sophie Henn also writes and illustrates the graphic novel series Pizazz recommended highly by Miller in Year 4!
